UB Gets Wide Acclaim; LIFE Mag. Runs Big Story

The University of Bridgeport's debut into the educational television field, about one month ago, has brought about a new era of prestige and publicity, and has received wide acclaim from all corners of the nation.

First national recognition came from the Associated Press, which ran a national story on the undertakings of our own University. Following this initial story, the New York World-Telegram ran a pictorial feature, full page story which appeared Saturday, Oct. 31.

Life magazine, one of the nation's foremost magazines, visited our campus a few weeks ago, taking numerous pictures with the possibility of doing a pictorial story on the program. Two days ago, the New York office notified the school that the story has been accepted, and will appear two weeks from tomorrow.

The Christian Science Monitor was the next newspaper to request permission for a feature story, and they are presently on the campus today, gathering material and taking photographs.

Numerous other periodicals and publications have sent similar requests, as have other universities which are interested in possibilities of following UB's footsteps in the educational television field.

In addition, a request has been received from the American College Public Relations Association for the University to send a guest speaker and workshop supervisor to their annual convention in Boston, Dec. 24. The educational television, and will theme of their convention will be centered around both UB and Brown University.

Film To Be Shown At SAM Meeting

The Society for the Advancement of Management (SAM) has a membership meeting today, November 17, at 10:00 a.m. When the site of the meeting has been named, notices will be posted on the bulletin boards. A film will be shown at this meeting.

The activities of SAM thus far this semester have included three plant visits and a trip to the national convention in New York. The national SAM convention took place in the Statler Hotel on October 29 and 30. The University of Bridgeport Chapter was represented by Harry Lane, Louis Pfeiffer, and Mr. E. Noah Gould, faculty advisor.

Sessions were held at the convention on the subject of training the executive advances in management communications, personality—the key to supervision, tools for business forecasting, and key management controls.

The UB chapter of SAM has announced its officers for this semester. They are: Harry Lane, president; James Bodner, vice-president; and Arthur Woodhull, treasurer.

Phil Clark Named Rules & Bills Head At 1954 C.I.S.L.

Phil Clark has been named chairman of the Rules and Bills Committee at the 1954 Connecticut Intercollegiate Student Legislature, it was announced this week by Al Munrow, Political Relations Forum President.

The Hartford UHF-TV station will televise, for the first time, this annual scholastic affair which will be held in Hartford, March 12, 13, and 14. There is a possibility of national magazine coverage.

Clark will supervise the preparation and distribution of all rules and bills written by the 1954 mock legislature. The purpose of the political meeting is to offer practical experience in state government to student representatives.

The P.R.F. also sponsors "B-DAY" or Civics Day in Bridgeport, a combined Political Relations-Sociology Colloquium banquet, and poll-watching for University elections.

New Haven Alumni Picks Easton Smith Chairman; Informal Dance Planned

The New Haven County Alumni Association of the University conducted its initial meeting at the home of Mrs. Betty James, Director of Alumni Relations, was the guest of honor at the meeting. Ten new officers elected were: Easton Smith, chairman, Beverly Fickman, secretary, Pauline, Herbert Hennessey, Ed Hawn, and David Howard. Station WLLJ publicity staff.

At the second meeting held at the home of Beverly Fickman on Nov. 1, future meetings, guest speakers, and social events were discussed. It was also brought up that future meetings be held in different cities throughout the country.

An informal dance has been planned for December. All UB students will be invited, as well as alumni from New Haven County. The time and place of the dance will be announced in a future issue of the SCRIBE.

The University of Bridgeport's football team will be trying to even their season's record as they invade Wilkes-Barre, Pa. to tangle with Wilkes College Saturday night. Following last week's 18-2 victory over New Britain Teachers College, the Knights record reads 3-4, and if UB can defeat the Keystoneers it will mark the first time since 1950 that any Bridgeport squad has been able to put two victories back to back.

This game will be the fifth of a series that dates back to 1949 and finds UB owning only one victory. In last year's contest the "Kaymen" led 13-2 at halftime but the Pennsylvanians came storming back to take a 21-13 victory.

Bridgeport will have eight seniors playing their final game for the Purple and White as John Anderson, Ralph Consiglio, Joe Cirone, Bobby Perez, Tony DiMettio, Walt Johnson and Jimmy Lee will bring to a close another four-year period of UB football that has seen Bridgeport win 13 and lose 19.

A crowd of 200 was on hand last Saturday as UB garnered its third victory of the season in the mud and slush of the Teachers home field.

The Knights capitalized on the first of 11 New Britain fumbles to gain their first score. Consiglio recovered an Educator misplay (continued on page 5)

10 University Students Attend SEAC Meeting At Conn. State Capitol

Ten University of Bridgeport students of the Student Educational Society of Connecticut met in the Bushnell Memorial Hall in Hartford for a general session recently. Chester Bowles, former U. S. Ambassador to India and former Governor of Connecticut, was guest speaker. Representatives from all the teacher-training institutions of Connecticut attended the conference, as hosts to the SEAC in April.

Approximately 70 students of the local chapter of the SEAC were present. The officers are: president, Joseph L. Fink; vice-president, Charles L. Fink; recording secretary, Sheila McKenney; and corresponding secretary, Margaret Gale. The 10 students who attended the conference were: Peter Baldino, Steve Baldino, Joseph DiMettio, Robert DiMettio, Christine George, Joseph George, Norman George, Norman George, Beverly Giger, Peter Myles, and Claire Waldman.

The brainstorm of Sue Rosner, chairman of the committee, and Sam Goldberg, vice-chairman, the weekend of events will include a "Booster Button Dance," which will feature a band and free refreshments. Admittance to the dance will be by showing you booster button, or by the purchase of one for 25c at the door.

BOOTERS AT HOME

While the gridiron squad of Walt Kondratovich will be at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., battling Wilkes College, Coach John McKeon's soccer squad will play host to Seton Hall. The contest, which is free, will get underway at 2:30 P. M. at Barnum Field.

Saturday evening has been left free, but arrangements have been completed for Alumni Hall to remain open, thus affording the students a place to congregate.

Final events of the gala weekend will be a weiner roast on the lawn of Bishop Hall, Sunday afternoon, followed by a pep rally and welcome home ceremony when the team arrives home from their trip. During the interval between the roast and the rally, a talent show put on by various dorms on campus will take place.

Both Rosner and Goldberg have urged the student body, whether dormitory or town students, to attend these affairs. The entire project came about as a result of the demand for student recreation, and was literally put into effect when the Spirit Committee held their meeting recently, which was attended by over 30 student representatives and three faculty members.

If this weekend proves a success, the committee has indicated it will continue its activities and present additional such weekends in the future.

WELCOME SPIRIT!!!

The University of Bridgeport had its greatest moment. Yes, it took many years, but it has finally happened. School spirit, long a missing product on our campus, has finally appeared.

The great moment occurred on a sunny afternoon at Candlelite Stadium just ten days ago. No, it wasn't during a football game. It happened immediately after the gridiron clash. UB had just lost by one point to St. Michaels.

As the UB players were leaving the field, the cheerleaders immediately called for a team cheer, and the roar of the students echoed throughout the wooden stadium. How many times in UB football history has a losing team been so treated.

The events leading up to the climatic moment brought fine comment from the severest of critics. The pep rally on the Thursday night prior to the game brought out more than 300 students despite the continuous drizzle. The group most responsible for the upsurge of school spirit, however, were the students.

This is not the end! The Student Spirit Committee held a meeting which brought forth 30 students and 3 faculty members, the greatest attendance that the group has had this year.

Spirit dies fast — too fast. Each one of us must continue to do our part in keeping this spirit alive, and support the fine work that the Spirit Committee has initiated.

"Now, now — COURSE you don't look like that!
Of COURSE I still love you!"

This winter there's the little overcoat, the
'happy medium' coat, the long great coat. We have them all — at rare values!

S. A. RAISE A "MUST"; STUDENT LEADERS

Student leaders of the University of Bridgeport that were questioned unanimously feel that a student activity fee raise from $8.00 to $8.00 as an absolute necessity.

Robert C. Levine, President of the Student Council, "Knowing the monetary situation concerning clubs and organizations on campus I cannot say no to a student activity fee raise even though it will mean $2.00 more per semester in expenditure on my part. For this additional outlay I will receive finer dances, a bigger SCRIBE, a better yearbook, and more active clubs, to say the least of a larger Campus Thunder and new uniforms for our football teams. For all this I will gladly spend more than $2.00."

Al Munrow, president of the Political Relations Forum: "The student organizations at the present time lack the necessary funds to successfully carry out their programs. Since the University is expanding itself, from year to year, so also should the student activities expand. The fact is, we need the money for this expansion."

Gary E. Singer, Editor of the SCRIBE: "This raise is an absolute necessity for all concerned. Not only will it help the larger organizations, but almost 50 smaller ones as well. Each student will receive his $2.00 back many times over."

Phil DuBriel, editor of the Helicon: "From the point of view of the yearbook, we get about one third the money we need from Student Council to put out a good yearbook to represent UB. I think that a few extra dollars to put out a good yearbook would be well worth while."

by Carl Dickman

It's interesting to note that the majority of UB grads who return for football games and social events are those who have fraternity and sorority affiliations.

Irnie Thropp, last year's writer of Greek tales, summed it up at the game last week, when she said, "the best about being a Greek is that no matter when you come back, you always have those ties and feelings of welcome—that the non-greek never seems to get."

ALPHA DELTA OMEGA's rebel pledges are on the run again. Nothing as violent as last year, but they are running their heads off instead, making plans with the brothers to make a success of the "After-Thunder Dance." Look for them opening night.

ALPHA GAMA PHI is still at it with more beer parties. They hope to pass last year's record number by the end of the semester. We hear that there is a big contest to see who the fraternity champion is.

BETA GAMMA girls are bigger and better (in spirit that is), as noted by their publicity committee composed of Dodie Bowden and Arline Crouthers. Orchids to them for the sisterly spirit shown by their attendance at TE's dance. Nine new sisters joined them for a "party" before the dance.

DELTA EPSILON BETA had a cocktail party at Charlie (Juagar) Yung's house, which initiated a UB fraternity first. They unveiled their "mascot." My spies tell me that this armless statue of a woman, which they call Molly Deroucher, is the sexiest thing on campus. This party, at which they welcomed their new pledges — Dick Weckler, Mel Berinson, and Don Berman, was such a success that they are already planning another in a few weeks. Annual DEB scholarship to be announced soon.

PI OMEGA CHI's doing it up big. Ten pledges all dolled up in green baretts, ties and name tags. My favorite color. Big alumni party at Ron Gold's in Teaneck, N. J. Jack May's Irish cake was something special. Complete with star of David, in green, of course. Final initiation for pledges will take place at another alumni-sponsored party, Nov. 14, at Sherm Levy's in Westport. POC-SPA co-sponsoring a beer party the 19th.

SIGMA LAMBDA CHI boys are still trying to figure out which clock is right. Pledging ended with "Hell night" and a welcome party for the new members. Big, big party on tap for this weekend, should be the social event of the semester.

SIGMA PHI ALPHA will announce the winner of their $100 scholarship soon. Pledging will start soon after. SPAlumni Assoc. is planning a big open dance after Campus Thunder.

THETA EPSILON girls are still recuperating from their dance, which we hear was a tremendous success. Dottie Marino excelled as MC, and the costumes seem to get better as the years go on.

THETA SIGMA started pledging this week. They say that we haven't seen anything yet. They promise the biggest thing to ever hit the campus before the pledge period is over. TS-AGP beer party being planned.

Good Answers Storm Call; Sees Thunder Strike Instead

by Myra Seide

A storm descended upon Bridgeport last weekend, which had Conty's virtually a floating wing-ding parlor, and which left Barnum field an enlarged swimming pool. Peering outside a third floor window of Seaside Hall, I sat marveling at the angry waters. It was the most frightening scene of Long Island Sound, I had ever viewed.

Clad in boots, borrowed slickers and equipped with camera, I trudged to a flooded Seaside Park, in an attempt to take some pictures of the flood, the greatest bit of "history" I had encountered all semester.

While attempting to photograph a goalpost, I was tapped on the shoulder by a gentleman ("You can call me Sand") who informed me I was determined, but the poorest shutterbug, he had ever seen! Also, he informed me, I could get to see and hear more thunder and lightning in just two minutes than I had in the last 24!

This was an offer too good to pass up. I accompanied this sandy-haired gentleman to a weather-beaten building, (to this girl, it looked like a stable) and truly folks, the words fabulous, fascinating, and fantastic, can just about describe what I saw.

On this page you get a glimpse of what my camera and I got to view last weekend, part of Thunder's cast.

The storm is over and we're waiting for the next — opening night, Nov. 20, when Thunder once again will rumble.

And thanks, Sand Mehorter, for the aid with the camera, and for getting me a scoop on the show which will take Bridgeport by storm ! ! ! !

UBooters Defeat LIU; Play Seton Hall Saturday

by Vito Montelli

Playing with a makeshift lineup that found a halfback in the nets and a wingman in the halfback slot, the University of Bridgeport's soccer team defeated Long Island University 2-1 last Saturday at Red Hook Stadium in Brooklyn, N. Y. The victory marked the Knights third win in five starts.

Saturday afternoon Seton Hall College of South Orange, N. J. invades the Seaside Park campus for the second of a two game series. The New Jersey Pirates won the opening game of the series 5-0, two weeks ago at So. Orange.

Due to the storm conditions, UB's regular goalie Wally Slavkin was unable to make the trip and Coach John McKeon had to start a revamped lineup with Danny Katz, a first string halfback in the goal and Nick D'Alusio a regular wingman in the halfback slot.

LIU opened the scoring three minutes from the end of the first half when Ed Borg broke away for an unassisted score. This goal was quickly matched as Gordie Cochrane, taking a pass from Herb Rudolph booted the ball past the Blackbird netminder. Midway through the third period UB Captain Mike Belmont iced the game when he scored his eighth goal of the season on a pass from Mark Scheinbart.

The scoring:

LIU	0	1	0	0-1
UB	0	1	1	0-2

Scoring: Bridgeport - Cochrane (Rudolph); Belmont (Scheinbart), LIU - Levine (unassisted).

MAKE THIS YEAR'S CHRISTMAS
GIFTING RELIGIOUS REMEMBRANCES

"A Religious Gift Means More"

When the University of Bridgeport's football meets Wilkes College, Saturday afternoon, eight UB football players will don their purple and white uniforms for the last time. For four years these names have been on your lips. . . how long after Nov. 14, 1953 will they remain there?

Two years ago Johnny "Babe" Longo left this school after being a gridiron great on the first four football teams this school fielded. How many of you remember the "Babe"? To bring it even closer to home, Ray Hirth, one of the finest small college centers in the country, has been forgotten by most, if not all of the undergraduates of this school.

Whether or not you remember or forget is of little importance, names were made to be forgotten, but it seems strange that within one short year anyone could forget a man who represented his school to the best of his ability for four long years. That is why the names of John Anderson, Ralph Consiglio, Joe Cirone, Bob Perez, Jimmy Lee, Charlie Petrino, Walt Johnson and Tony DiMatteo will be mentioned in this column, for we feel that even if only on paper, they deserve to be remembered.

For three years Anderson had to play in the shadow of Ray Hirth. Andy didn't have to do this, for in his own right he is one of the outstanding ballplayers on the club. Last year he ended up as the 16th top small-college punter in the nation, and this year, until injuries forced him to sit down, was a 60-minute performer. Consiglio, never a high scorer, has made his mark as a blocker and as a defensive half-back. Along with Anderson, "Blackie," was justly elected co-captain this year.

Cirone was, at this writing, 3rd in the nation among small college pass receivers with a total of 31 passes which have gained almost 500 yards. "Ciro" looks like UB's best bet for All-State honors and well deserves them.

The "Rat," better known as Bobby Perez, was in a situation not dissimilar to Anderson's for in playing on teams that have boasted such names as Dan Nastasia, Babe Longo and Joe Finkelstein, his prowess as a shifty half-back was overlooked. Bob has come into his own and is the team's leading ground gainer and is tied for the team's scoring leadership with three TD's.

Jimmy Lee. . . in 1950 when he was only a freshman Jim took over a standing position and kept it until this year when a severe knee injury put him out of action. Not much more can be asked of any man. DiMatteo came to UB after spending two years with Uncle Sam and has proven to be an outstanding tackle since he first put on his now familiar 67.

Petrino, one of the most rugged defensive ballplayers in these parts of the country has also been one of Coach Walt Kondratovich's first stringers for three seasons.

Johnson, the Knights second top ground gainer is probably the hardest driver on the squad and aptly showed this in the team's heartbreaking loss to St. Michael's, when he went through the enemy's line as if it were butter.

Well, that's a wrap up of the eight seniors on the UB squad. Say it looks like a dope sheet . . . you're right, but they deserve it, every one of them. . . thanks fellows and good luck!

IT'S A GOOD IDEA TO PLAN

Callahan AC and Sigma Phi Alpha Lead As Intramurals Move Into Final Week

by Don Burke

Sigma Phi Alpha moved into first place in the "A" division and Callahan AC retained their leadership in the "B" league as the intramural football season rolled into its final week of play.

JOE CIRONE, the nation's number 3 pass receiver in small college rolls, now has a total of 31 passes for 440 yards. Cirone, along with 7 other seniors, will be making his final appearance as the Knights face Wilkes College in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Saturday night.

Knights To Play Wilkes

on the TCC 35 and three plays later Dick Glansello hit Perez with a 25 yard aerial for the touchdown. Perez also added the second UB touchdown on a 35 yard romp around end, midway through the second period.

The second half was played almost entirely in New Britain territory, with the third Bridgeport TD coming in the closing minutes of the third quarter on a 16 yard drive by Roland Emery. In the final minutes of the game, UB mentor Walt Kondratovich emptied his bench for the first time this year as every member of the squad took his turn at being covered with mud.

TCC threatened only once, that late in the second stanza when after an intercepted pass they drove down to the UB 1 yard line, but the Knights' defensive line held and took over on downs. On the second play of that series Consiglio was tackled in the end zone for a two point safety and New Britains only score of the game.

Callahan romped to their fifth and sixth consecutive victories by trouncing Marina Hall 9-0 and taking a gift win when Trumbull Hall forfeited. This forfeit dropped Trumbull from the league. In the Marina game the AC took the lead on the second play of the game when Harry Noyes tagged Dick Lugg in the end zone for a safety and never gave up the lead. Frank Santoro scored the only touchdown of the game on a pass from Denny Callahan.

Previously unbeaten APO was knocked into a second place tie with POC when they absorbed two defeats in two games, dropping a 6-0 heartbreaker to SPA in the final two minutes of play and being soundly trounced by POC 20-6. After battling to a 0-0 tie for 48 minutes the APO-SPA game was suddenly broken wide open when Art Parisi pitched a 40 yard aerial to John Santori for the only score of the game.

POC in defeating APO moved into a second place deadlock and still has a chance to tie for the championship as they were scheduled to meet SPA this afternoon.

In other games Park Hall remained in second place by taking two forfeit victories, ADO forfeited to POC and Milford won a forfeit from Trumbull.

Clinkscales, Amaral Co-Capts. To Lead '53-54 Basketeers

Alvin Clinkscales and Ernie Amaral, the tall and the short of the University of Bridgeport's basketball team, have been elected co-captains by their mates for the 1953-54 season, according to Herbert E. Glines, Director of Athletics and head coach.

Amaral, one of the shortest men on the team, at 5'9", is entering his third year of varsity competition, while Clinkscales a 6'5" center, is a senior. Both men are natives of Bridgeport, and both were graduated from Central High School.

The little guard, a proficient playmaker, tallied 209 points last year while playing in the shadows of Gus Seamon, Lou Saccone and Dick LaBash, each of whom tallied over 1,000 points in their careers. "Clinker," considered by many to be one of the finest small college centers in the east, has been a consistent high scorer, and is about ready to become the fourth UB player to enter the "Grand Circle." His two year total, excluding his freshman scores, is now 948 points.

ALONG PARK PLACE

by Andy Demotzes

Each week, along about Thursday afternoon, your eyes usually gaze at this spot for the campus "dirt," news of parties, pinnings, etc. . . However, this week I feel I have something more important to say.

There is one human characteristic that I have always disliked, and it is a lack of interest in matters of concern to the general public. This lack of interest is particularly noticeable on this campus.

Here is the problem: To arouse the interest of the students on a matter that hits close to home — the pocket-book.

The Student Council believes, as I do, that there is a need for an increase in the activities fee. True, this means more money out of your pockets.

Let's forget the argument that the clubs and organizations don't get enough money. You don't really care, do you? You couldn't care, because you have failed to express your opinion in referendums of this very same type on previous occasions.

What, then, does interest you? Perhaps it is your pocketbooks, if nothing else. When will you feel strong enough on a subject to take the vote for, or against it?

Realize for yourself just what your interest in this matter is. Read the material that has been printed as to why the increase is necessary. Think it over. Talk to other people. Ask questions. Consider the money involved. Decide if the increase is needed.

When you have decided how you feel, vote as you feel. The important thing is that everyone of us has a hand in deciding the question of the increase.

The result of this referendum is important only in that it shows that the students do, or do not, want an increase. I don't urge you to vote "yes" for the increase. My plea is that you just vote. If you do not vote, the referendum will fail for a lack of the necessary 50% participation in the voting. This would be bad.

There are too many student leaders who want this increase to go through. They might find a way to get it by without a referendum. If this is done, the entire purpose or a representative type council is defeated. It is not for the Council members alone to decide if there is or is not a need for an increase. It is for each and every one of us to decide.

As it now stands, we have a right to vote on such issues. If the lack of interest continues, this right of decision might be removed. Think of the situation then. A council of 16 members making all policy decisions without the student body having the right to veto something they don't want.

If you are one of those who do not want the increase, take the trouble to vote in the coming referendum, and be thankful you have an opportunity to do so. If you think the increase is needed, vote for it! Regardless of your feelings, be an active member of our democratic way of life.

Throw off this old lack of interest; seriously consider the pros and cons of the issue, and let your feelings be known when the time comes to vote.

If you do these things, you will be the one to profit; not because the increase goes through, or because it is defeated, but because you will help support our American way of life.

Bridgeport Lassies Win 3-1 In Hockey Season Inaugural

A second half rally gave the University of Bridgeport's woman's hockey team a 3-1 victory over Laurelton Hall last Wednesday at Barnum Field. This was the opening game of the season and gave the female version of the Purple Knights a 1-0 record.

Laurelton opened the scoring midway through the first half after the UB lassies had forced the play throughout the opening stanza. In the closing seconds of the half a 15 foot shot by Grace Bruno knotted the score. The first half was marked by the excellent passing of Bruno, Phyllis Hall, Carolyn Pevetti, Ruth Hutchins and Eleanor Persip.

As the second half opened the UB forward wall of Jay-Kahn, Delores Visconti, Joan Flaminio, Julie Peterson and Sandy Weed wore down the Laurelton goalie and after 5 minutes of the period Visconti put the ball in the visitors nets to give UB a lead that they never relinquished. The third Bridgeport goal came in the final minutes of play when a Persip shot . . . and off the goal post and bounded into the twines.
